Kick Off

Barbara Ann Johnson, Reporter

After a busy week here we are here again with a little news and happnings at A. H. S.

The Seniors seem very busy this week exchanging personal cards. They received them Tuesday and all of them were glad to get them.

The Appomattox Future Homemakers of America held a meeting October 24 for the election of officers. They are:

President, Mary Ellen Moore

Vice-pres., Doris Lee Moore

Secretary, Virginia Lewis

Treasurer, Sue Moore

Reporter, Jackie Poston

Parliamentarians, Marie Ferguson and Jean Cheatham

Sponsor, Miss Viola Carson.

We were very fortunate to have had students from Thomas Jefferson High School of Roanoke here last Wednesday to induct our Tri-Hi-Y members. The program consisted of a scripture lesson and concluding this, the Lord's Prayer. The meaning of this club and its purposes were demonstrated to us, and we appreciate the visit and wish to thank these Christian boys for offering their services to us.

Our Junior Varsity played Lovingston there Friday and were defeated by a score of 13—0. It was a good game and we hope our boys will be victorious next time.

Our football team will journey to Schoolfield this Friday to play there at 8:00 P. M. We hope to see a large crowd of Appomattox fans there to support the team.

The 10th grade had charge of chapel program Wednesday. The program consisted of impersonations of teachers,talent and a pantomime. It was enjoyed by all.

Well, Hallowe'en is over and our school is still standing! The party sponsored by the P.-T. A. was a big success and helped to keep our town a great deal more orderly than it might have been otherwise. I hope we will have more of these activities throughout the year..

We wish to congratulate the members of the annual staff for having paid half the money due on the yearbook.

As news stood A. H. S. is serving I will close with this thought: A person who makes a mistake and does not correct it is making an other mistake."

High School Chatter

Here we go again, boys and girls, with all the chatter of old A. H. S

Ask Margie what she thinks of football and she'll tell you, "It's tough." We can agree when perfectly good boys friends get "banged up" in games.

Two of our brilliant girls have discovered the joys of "going steady." For further information see Loretta and Nina.

Whoa—Betty Jane—don't run so fast after that soldier called Windy.

Has anyone seen Lewis Harvey's ring? Shirley is proudly wearing one.

Oh, 'tis love that makes the world go round. (So they say). Have you noticed the diamond that Dot Mcginnison is flashing around?

Seniors, do you think we could compare J. C. and Sam Almond to "The Squire" in the Canterbury Tales? You know the squire was a great lover.

Wonder where Mrs. Morris and Miss Hidley went Thursday and Friday. We certainly did miss them.

Wonder why Helen Mae is so interested in Fred's new car. Come on, Poo, let us in on it.

By the way, where was everybody last Friday night at the Canteen? We surely did miss you and you missed something, too; especially the hat dance done by two of the Spanish students. South America, take it away!

Keep your chin up, students, and try for your goal again the next six weeks. Remember, a small beginning maketh a good ending.

If you guessed the charming girl in last week's column as Miss Lois Wood you are exactly right. Who else could fit the description?

For our personality parade this week we have chosen a very distinguished man. Now, guess!!

He is in the Senior class, is one of our most active students on the campus of old A. H. S. His ability as a leader and his vitality and energy won for him the vice presidency of last year's junior class and the presidency of the senior class. He is a member of the choir in his church, plays excellent football, and is sports editor of the annual. Well, guess this young man and you're just plain smart. See you next week!

Mr. Robinson:-

Was surely nice and thoughful of you to ask the people to send birthday cards and I do appreciate it so much. I don't take the Virginian; I stopped taking papers my eyes are quite dim and just cannot see to read but little at the time; not even my self. I hear that you put a piece in your paper, the Times-Virginian, for the people to send a birthday card, and you also mentioned it over the radio. Believe me, I do feel grateful to you for all you have said. My birthday was the 15th of October. My friends commenced to come cards September 27 and they still come. Such a pile of them in today's mail. Thanking you again and come out to see me and bring Mrs. Robinson. Sincerely,

Mrs. Charles H. Coleman,
Appomattox, Va., Route 4, Box 78.

Signs of the times: They must have run out of signposts around Pamplin on the signpost in front of the depot, yesterday they had two signs. One said "No parking here to the left." They other said: "Parking for two hours."

Every time the football season rolls around, we get interested in the boys having a brass band to play for the games. Besides, it is of few ways to get good advertising for a town better than having a band. I was down at Carry Mill, Williamsburg some weeks ago in the period between halves when the football game the band from Granby High School at Norfolk put on a show that was tops. And what a splendid show it was, too. Nobody has a great band, of nearly 100 pieces, but to supplement that, they had a drill team of some 100 girls instead of the over-done set marching up and down the field, playing the alma mater of the two schools and forming the initials of the competing colleges, this band from Norfolk staged their masterpiece of the stage hit show, South Pacific! The drill team formed the figure of a hula dancer, and as the band played, they made with the grass and navey. It was a novel and diverting show that caught the fancy of swell halftime entertainment and the Granby band made quite a hit as did either Football Team. And so it is, if you want your town to get good advertising, work for a top-notch school band. I have been to football games at Chapel Hill where as many as 15 school bands were on the field at one time; at Washington and Lee Redskins have a band as good as their football team, Wilmington, N. C. has a wonderful school band.

The poet moves ahead of the population, just as the planning board anticipates the finished commodity. Six hundred and forty one years ago there was born a famous British poet—Alfred, Lord Tennyson. We have heard ministers recite his Sunset and Evening Star. But he was a prophet. Tennyson foresaw many of our modern inventions. In the Locksley Hall, published in 1842, he wrote:

For I dipped into the future, far as human eye could see,
Saw the vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be.
Saw the heavens fill with commerce, argosies of magic sail,
Pilots of the purple twilight dropping down with costly bale.
Heard the heavens filled with shouting, and there rained a ghastly dew,
From the nations airy navies grappling in the central blue.

And he went on in this prophetic vein, after predicting modern air power, radio and chemical warfare, to predict a world federation even stronger than our present United Nations. A poet is a man of vision.

Election Vote In Appomattox Less Than 800

A total of 765 votes were cast in Tuesday's general election in Appomattox County. Congressman Watkins M. Abbitt won a fine vote in being returned to Congress without opposition in the Fourth District.

Results for the county:

For Congress: W. M. Abbitt, 743; George Abbitt, 1 (write-in).

For court amendment: for, 361; against, 194.

School amendment: for, 347; against, 214.

LAW ON BIG GAME; PLACES TO REPORT

The law requires that all bear and deer be reported and tagged at the big game checking stations during the coming hunting season, D. A. Conner, Game Warden of Appomattox County, points out. Tags will be furnished only at the checking stations.

Checking stations in Appomattox County will be established at:

T. Hunter Dickerson's Store, Appomattox, Va.;

George Abbitt's Store, Vera, Va.;

J. Kent Hamilton's Store, Evergreen, Va.;

E. Dan Wooldridge's home, Pamplin, Va. (near Hurtsville, Road No. 626);

M. A. Booker's Service Station, U. S. 60, near Bent Creek, Va.

Main purpose of the new regulations, which are in force in most of the states, are to aid in law enforcement and as a means of making a check of the annual kill to assist in regulating the size of the herds.

F F A Gets Hereford Bull

One of the 50 registered Hereford bull calves recently donated to the Virginia Association Future Farmers of America by the Sears, Roebuck Foundation, Inc., has been consigned to the Appomattox High School FFA Chapter, it was announced by Henry P. Pack, vocational agriculture instructor at the school. The chapter in turn has assigned the bull to James Slagle, senior vocational agriculture student and Appomattox FFA member.

"Appomattox FFA Chapter was selected to receive one of the bulls primarily because of the interest and efforts of Appomattox students and instructor of vocational agriculture to produce better livestock in their community," says Jerry A. Burke, division superintendent of schools. Selection of chapters was made by the state office on the basis of applications showing number of head of livestock in the area served by the school, the need for a purebred sire, and evidence on the part of students and teacher of vocational agriculture to make the most effective use of a purebred bull.

The young bull assigned to Slagle and the other 49 bulls distributed to FFA and NFA Chapters in the state, will be used to up-breed and improve the quality of livestock in the communities in which they are located.

"This is not a 'bull chain' or purebred livestock project," Pack points out. While the young bulls, as soon as they become of breeding age, may be used with purebred beef cows, they will also be used with grade cows to up-grade beef cattle and produce better veal calves.

The bulls come from Mill Iron Ranches in Texas. Covering 130,000 acres and operated on a unique unit system, Mill Iron Ranches is the largest producer of registered Herefords in the world. J. A. Hardy, Pulaski, and W. C. Dudley, Appomattox, area supervisor of vocational agriculture, selected the 50 bulls purchased for the Virginia FFA.

The bulls were shipped to Virginia by truck and distributed from Roanoke and Richmond. Young farmer Slagle, F. F. A. president, Sam Davidson and other FFA officers Ralph Smith, Ray Uage, Billy Johnston, Calvin Tanner, with vocational agriculture instructor Pack selected the Appomattox Chapter bull from the Richmond lot of 25.

MEETING DATE FOR LOCAL U. D. C.

Because of the General U. D. C. convention, which will be held in Richmond November 12 - 17, the local chapter of U. D. C. will not meet at the regular time, but will meet Tuesday, November 21, at 3:30 o'clock, at Courtland, the home of Mrs. S. L. Ferguson.. Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Ned Wagers and Mrs. Morton Rosser will be joint hostesses. Dr. W. Twyman Williams will speak on the subject, "Foreigners in the Confederacy."

Miss Julia Asher, chairman of Education for the Appomattox U. D. C., states that the chapter will again sponsor the annual historical essay contest in the public schools. Mrs. Jerry Burke, president has received congratulations for the chapter for the outstanding historical work done during the year 1950, and they received two prizes for this work, as well as wto silver cups which will be placed in the county library.

Sum Davidson, president of the F. F. A. Chapter at Appomattox High School; R. N. Anderson, director of vocational agriculture, State Department of Education; H. B. Pack, instructor; and James Slagle, who will care for the Hereford bull consigned to Appomattox FFA.

Farmers Vote On New P M A Committees

Appomattox County farmers were urged to share in the "grass roots" administration of their farm programs by taking part in the annual election of community committeemen of the Production and Marketing Administration on Thursday, November 16. Bennett Harding, who is the present PMA Committee Chairman, made the appeal this week.

"We need the most capable committeemen we can find," the county chairman said, "and above all, they should be the ones with the majority of farmers in each community want. Only by a fully representative vote in each community can this be accomplished."

"Mounting defense activities may be expected during the coming year which may bring on problems of obtaining seed, fertilizer, or construction materials," Mr. Harding pointed out. "Defense activity may also mean increased production of certain commodities as in the last war. If increased production is needed, we must be prepared to meet the situation without unduly depleting the soil reserves we have built up during the past five years. If emergency efforts are required, the Secretary of Agriculture has already named PMA as the organization to carry the ball on the farm front."

Elections on November 16 will be for a community committee of three farmers in each community and delegate to the county convention. The county convention will meet November 17, the next day, to elect a three-man county committee.

The chairman explained that any person is eligible to vote who participated in the Agricultural Conservation Program, or who carried out approved conservation practices, or anyone who was eligible for price supports, or who held a Federal Crop Insurance contract.

Voting on November 16 will be by secret ballot. Polling places for each community will be open at the following places and hours:

CLOVERHILL — Old Court House—from 8:00 A. M. until 12:00 noon. Hix's Store at Hixburg—from 12:00 noon until 5:00 P. M.

SOUTHSIDE: — Chap Voting Precinct—from 8:00 A. M. until 12:00 noon. Appomattox Court House—from 12:00 noon until 5:00 P. M.

STONEWALL— J. E. Herndon's Store—from 8:00 A. M. until 12:00 noon. M. W. Drinkard's Store, from 12:00 noon until 5:00 P. M.

Community boundary lines will conform to magisterial district lines. Each eligible voter is urged to go to the most convenient voting place in his community during the specified hours and cast his vote.

Senator Taft rolls up big margin in Ohio. Tydings loses in Maryland to Republican.

Southern Democrats to have bigger voice in new Congress.

Receive Bids On Carver H. S. Here Nov. 22

The Appomattox County School Board and the County Board of Supervisors will meet at 10 A. M. on Wednesday, November 22, for the purpose of receiving bids for the building of the proposed new Carver High School here. C. H. Hinant, Lynchburg, is a 'itect for the project.

It is understood that the school board has option on needed additional land for the building. Also, Literary Fund and Battle School Funds are available for the school. No additional taxes are viewed as necessary for this building, long a pressing need in the county's public school system.

The proposed building would be a standard, fire resistant structure of cinder block with brick facing.

Agriculture Building Ready

Also, it was sannounced today that the new agriculture building at the Appomattox High School is ready for occupancy and will go into use Monday of next week. H. C. Blackwell was contractor on this job.

This replaces the former agriculture building which was destroyed by fire October 11, 1949. The new building has two classrooms, offices, storage room and a large shop, and with equipment cost $45,000. Funds were derived from fire insurance on the old building, state and federal grants.

School official state that the new agriculture building at the Appomattox High School is considered one of the very best in the state.

A. H. S. Plays Amherst Friday

Appomattox High School and Schoolfield High School battled to a scoreless tie at Schoolfiel dlast Friday night in a football game wellplayed by each team. This was a league game. Ed Casethorne did one of the offensive work for Appomatox, picking up some 125 yards rushing. He was followed by Henry Doss. A. H. S. gained around 225 yards rushing to a net loss of 90 yards rushing for Schoolfield. The Appomattox line played one of its best defensive games of the season, as the boys outcharged Schoolfield and kept them deep in their own territory most of the night.

Appomattox will play its final home game here Friday at 8:00 P. M. at the Lee Ball Park. This will be the last local appearance for the seniors on the A. H. S. team. These boys have contributed much to athletics at the school, and a large turn-out of fans is expected.

A. H. S. has a season's record of three wins, two losses and two ties so far, and hope to turn in another victory tomorrow night.

Farmville has been added to the schedule, to take the place of the Junior Varsity game with Lovingston. This added game will be played at Farmville at 8:00 P. M. on November 22.

Senator Robertson Speaks At Buckingham

Senator A. Willis Robertson will be the principal speaker at a public meeting in Buckingham Central High School tonight at 7:30, sponsored by the Virginia Wildlife Federation.

The Federation, headed by Dr. W. A. Pennington, of Buckingham, has invited sportsmen and those interested in wildlife conservation.

Before his address, the Senator will be the guest of the Buritan Club at its dinner meeting.

Saturday Is Holiday

Saturday, November 11, is Armistice Day and a legal holiday. Post offices and banks will be closed. Banks were closed Tuesday, it being election day, and they will be closed November 23, Thanksgiving.
